Argument of Beasley vs. Bynum, from Edenton, in the Supreme Court to-day stirred considerable interest in an unusual case. The plaintiffs, Mr. and Mrs. V. Beasley, demand $2.500 damages of O. C. Bynum for the shooting of a pet dog of Mrs. Beasley. The dog had snapped at a little son of Bynum's a few days before and Bynum went with his gun to the Beasley home and shoot the dog while it was tied in the yard and without saying a word to any one Mrs. Beasley has heart trouble, and the sudden shooting of the dog is alleged to have been a dangerous and damaging shock for her. The trial below was won by the defendant.
